Description

Bruno Holden is a student in Utrecht, studying Product Design. He describes himself as an honest asshole. He does know how to laugh, but his sarcasm is not something newcomers can easily spot.

Bruno mostly sleeps during his commute and hopes someone wakes him up at his desired train station.

Talking to strangers is not a problem for Bruno. He works at a restaurant as waiter, so this is something he is familiar with. But its not something he would easily do during his commute. He likes the insurance of being in a surrounding with common interest. Like work or his Wednesday night card evening.
